

ACCESSIBILITY GUIDE

PARKING

Vehicles with a valid accessible parking permit receive free parking in any space. There are accessible parking spaces in each of the zoo's five parking lots.

AIDES, ATTENDANTS AND GUIDES

One-to-one aides or attendants of guests with disabilities receive complimentary admission with the exception of ticketed events, such as ZooTunes. Please let the ticket office know that you are visiting with a one-to-one attendant to receive their free admission.

A family member or friend who visits the zoo to assist a blind guest receives complimentary admission. Please let the Ticket Office know that you are visiting with a one-to-one guide to receive their free admission.

SERVICE ANIMALS

We prioritize the health and well-being of animals in our care, including many sensitive species. Therefore, we require additional steps to bringing fully-trained service animals on grounds. Please read the Service Animal Guidelines thoroughly before your visit. Service Animal Guidelines are also available in braille, ask at either Guest Services.

When you arrive, we require that you and your service animal check in at the ticket office before entering the zoo.

SIGHTED GUIDES

Woodland Park Zoo is dedicated to providing experiences that connect everyone to wildlife and conservation. Blind and low vision guests can request a trained sighted guide for their visit. With 14 calendar days' notice, we will do our best to match you with a trained volunteer as your sighted guide for the zoo. Guides are prepared to assist with navigation, connect guests with tactile experiences, read signage, and provide auditory context about the exhibits and the animals in them. At least 14 days prior to your visit, please fill out the Sighted Guide Request Form or call 206.548.2450 to fill out the form verbally.

SENSORY NEEDS & CONSIDERATIONS

See our Sensory Map as a guide to areas of the zoo which tend to be quiet and less crowded, are shady and cool, or have space to move and interpretive objects to touch. We also have a Social Story for Zoomazium, our indoor play space, which may help guests with sensory needs know what to expect.

You can borrow sensory tools (fidgets, noise-cancelling headphones, weighted lap blankets, pin-wheels, etc.) at Zoomazium and both Guest Services. Available on a first-come first-served basis, simply ask a staff member to check out an item. When leaving the zoo, return items to Zoomazium or either Guest Services location.

Fridays in Zoomazium are "Sensory-friendly Fridays." On Fridays the Strangler Fig tree is closed to create a quieter and more comfortable environment for children with sensory sensitivities and their families. Soothing, exploratory sensory activities are also provided to support language development, motor skills, problem solving skills, and social interactions.

For guests who are sensitive to noise, the best months to visit are during the off-season (October – April) when there are fewer guests. In the spring or summer, arrive at opening (9:30 a.m.) or after 3:00 p.m. when the zoo is less crowded (peak crowds are around midday, especially on weekends).

Some areas to avoid if crowds and noise are overstimulating include:

- Willawong Station:
indoor space with lots of movement and noise
- 1899 Grove:
indoors can be crowded and loud; outdoor areas are usually calmer. Other food areas are typically less busy.
- Historic Carousel:
indoor area with music, clanging bells, lights and crowd noise
- Humboldt penguins:
especially noisy during feeding time programs

The nearby Seattle Sensory Garden within the Woodland Park Rose Garden is designed to be interactive. Guests are encouraged to touch and explore plants and a variety of elements including wind chimes and temple bells. Access to the Rose Garden is free and does not require admission to the zoo. Hours are 7:30 a.m. until dusk, every day of the year.

CONCERTS AND SPECIAL EVENTS

Additional accommodations can be made for any of the zoo's after-hours events; please email zooinfo@zoo.org to make arrangements or ask questions.

During ZooTunes concerts, space in the Accessible Reserved section is available for ADA patrons and up to three ticketed companions. Indicate that you need accessible seating when purchasing your tickets. For additional ZooTunes accessibility information follow the link.

FIRST AID

In the event of an emergency please call 206.548.2595, as this helps us to better assist ambulances onto grounds if needed.

For general first aid needs, visit Guest Services near the South Entrance or West Entrance. Most of our Security staff are Emergency Medical Technicians.

CAMPS AND CLASSES

One-to-one aides are welcome as a part of the group and can attend at no extra charge. One-to-one aides are required if (1) the participant requires the full attention of an adult (2) needs assistance toileting or with other medical needs or (3) must have assistance to eat.

We provide reasonable accommodations and scaffolding to any of our programs for accessibility. We advocate for open, direct, respectful communication with all participants and their caregivers. We seek to learn about individuals' needs and how to set them up for success. We believe that supporting people with disabilities improves experiences for all participants in the program.

VOLUNTEERING

We encourage people of all abilities to apply to volunteer! All volunteers receive thorough training and mentoring for their first few shifts, with additional support available as needed.

One-to-one aides, job coaches, or family supports are welcome to help create the right volunteer position for you. Find more information about volunteer opportunities, or email volunteer@zoo.org with questions.
